FOREWORD

The moving finger writes, and having writ moves on. . . .
Thus spoke Omar Khayyam. Another year has passed, another class has come and gone, and in going has left its imprint here. In order that this year may not be forgotten in the turmoil and hurry of modern living, it has been the aim of the 1941 PHOENIX to present as accurately as possible a brief, but, we believe, a composite, picture of this passing parade, this year at Cumberland University.

DEDICATION

The staff of the 1941 PHOENIX respectfully dedicates this issue to the man, Sam Bone, to whom we realize that we and Cumberland owe a lasting debt of gratitude—not that he is a popular man, his position forbids him to be. But we in all truth and sincerity can say that if it were not for this man, his hardheadedness, his sound common sense, and his ability to say no, we would be deprived of many of the benefits both material and intangible which we now enjoy. In these troubled times had Sam Bone not been in the position of authority and control that he occupies, another and sadder story might be that of Cumberland today. And so in fairness and in honesty we take this opportunity to in some small way express our appreciation to a man who has had little evidence paid him of the job which he has done so well and continues to do.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Last year I reminded the seniors that they faced a chaotic world. Since that time, the ancient and modern cradle of civilization has become a cauldron of death and destruction. Today the heritage of western culture is nearer extinction than in any period of history. Lust for power to control the political and economic world order has made a demonic dictator threaten the destinies of all peoples who love liberty, justice, truth, and rightness.

None can hope to escape the necessary sacrifice to win this war against our most precious heritage. In some way all of us must give our share of self-surrender until the victory shall have been won and

*'Till the war drums throb no longer,
And the battle flags are furled
In the Parliament of man,
The Federation of the world.*

Your generation will be the builders of a new world order. May you, America's college-trained leaders, turn to the Prince of Peace for wisdom and strength. May you have the courage and skill to lead humanity to firmer faith in Right, Truth, Justice, Freedom, and International Good Will. This nation which gave you these blessings must lead the nations of the earth into a new era of human brotherhood. God grant that you be morally and spiritually worthy and strong for the task.

*In the heart of sunny Tennessee
There is a school so fair;
Marching ever on to victory,
Her colors grace the air.
Truth and virtue are her heritage,
And priceless is her worth;
We sing applause and cheer the cause
Of the finest school on earth.*

*Let's lend a helping hand
To dear old Cumberland;
And to her warriors bold
Let's be true blue.
Undaunted at her side
We must protect her pride.
Her teachings golden old
We must pursue;*

*Through victory and strife
She's led a noble life;
And her traditions grand
Shall ever stand
For the maroon and white.
We'll always work and fight
For dear old Cumberland.
Let's lend a hand.*

THE COLLEGE OF LAW

The nativity of the College of Law of Cumberland University was an humble one indeed. Seven students, in response to an announcement of the Board of Trustees of the University, itself established only five years previously, made their appearance at the law office of Judge Abram Caruthers in Lebanon. This was in 1847. One of the young hopefuls at that first recitation was a quiet boy named Nathan Green, who later became professor of law at his Alma Mater and one of the most powerful and prominent figures in the history of legal education.

From this unpretentious beginning, the Law School grew into the largest and one of the most prosperous in the nation. However, due to the growing unrest and later the strife of the War Between the States, which wrought havoc in the student body, the Law School was closed and the "Cumberland lawyers" assembled on the battlefield to defend the honor of their beloved South.

Judge Nathan Green, who, a short time before the war, had been made a professor in the Law School, returned from the conflict to find the school building in ashes. During the war it had been occupied as a barracks and was burned during its occupancy. However, Judge Green soon reestablished the Law School in the buildings of Campbell Academy with about twenty students, among whom was Horace Lurton, later to become one of Cumberland's Justices of the United States Supreme Court.

During the next twelve years the law classes were held in the unoccupied buildings of the Baptist Seminary and Corona Institute, both early Lebanon institutions. In 1877, however, a handsome new brick building of Victorian architecture was erected, into which the Law School was moved, and in which it has been housed since that time. It was named Caruthers Hall in honor of the great Abram Caruthers, first professor of law.

Upon entering this impressive structure, one is deeply impressed with the dignity and solemnity of the place. From the hallowed walls the faces of many hundreds of those same young hopefuls look down, "Cumberland lawyers" then, but a legion of them destined to become governors, Supreme Court Justices and statesmen of renown. The sacred halls bespeak the glories of an honored past, the hopefulness of an uncertain future. May its destiny be guided by hands like those which gave it birth.

RESUME OF COACHES

Coach Charles Kerr was appointed head football coach of Cumberland University in June, 1940, following the resignation of Coach Ned Vaughn, who left his position here to join the coaching staff of New Mexico Military Institute.

Coach Kerr completed his undergraduate work at Middle Tennessee State Teachers College. He coached at Chapel Hill school four years, producing an undefeated team in 1936. From Chapel Hill he went to Columbia High School, where he produced a championship undefeated eleven in 1939. He resigned his position there to come to Cumberland.

Forced to build a new eleven out of freshman material with only twelve returning men from the year before, Coach Kerr's record for the first year could hardly be called impressive on the football field. However, with good material, he molded a basketball team that ended in a virtual tie for the Smoky Mountain Athletic Conference championship.

ASSISTANT COACH ROCKY PALMER

With seven years' coaching experience, Coach Rocky Palmer came to Cumberland last spring as an assistant to Coach Kerr. Coach Palmer graduated from Union University in 1932, where he was a star center on the grid eleven. He coached at Newbern High School for two years and went from there to Dyersburg, where he coached five years. While at Dyersburg, he made an outstanding record, winning twenty-seven games, losing fourteen, and tying four.

BERNIE BASS

Manager Bernie Bass, who played at a regular berth on the cage team, managed the grid team, having charge of all equipment and serving as trainer.

The most optimistic fan did not expect the Cumberland Bulldogs to win a majority of their games last season. A new coach, a new assistant coach, new men fresh from high school, only twelve returning men, most of whom were sophomores, did not indicate a winning team. No one recognized these facts more clearly than did Coach Kerr, who was making his debut in college football as a coach. Forced to think two or three years ahead when his freshmen will have gained experience, Coach Kerr maintained a pessimistic attitude throughout the season. His chief aim was and is to build a foundation on which to produce a winning team.

The team was one the school and fans could well be proud of. In spite of nine defeats compared with one victory for the season, the Bulldogs were a fighting combine in every game. Hopelessly outweighed and outclassed, the men in Maroon and White won the admiration of all by continuing to fight against overwhelming odds.

Two Cumberland men were judged good enough to earn positions on a mythical honor team. The Smoky Mountain Conference placed Jean Denney and John Orr as center and back, respectively, on the second all-star eleven. The Cumberland team, in winning one and losing nine, scored seventy-two points compared to 229 for the opposition.

Prospects for a winning eleven in 1941 take a more rosy glow, with almost an entire squad returning from last year. At the same time the squad was gaining experience, the coaches were also learning, all of which points toward a less pessimistic attitude for all when the call for practice is issued in September.

A brief game-by-game summary follows:

BUFFALOES BLITZ BULLDOGS

An aerial blitzkrieg spelled defeat for the Cumberland boys in the initial game of the season. Held scoreless in the first half, the Milligan Buffaloes came back in the third quarter, combining excellent passing with a receiver named Blessing to conquer the Bulldogs, 13 to 0. Cumberland threatened in the opening minutes of the last quarter, when Billy Lloyd smashed to the Milligan sixteen-yard line.

CUMBERLAND LOSES ONE-POINTER

In the most thrilling game seen on Kirk Field in many a year, the Maryville Scotties turned back the Bulldogs, 19 to 18, in a game marked by frequent long runs and completed passes.

Receiving the ball on the kickoff, Cumberland marched to the goal line for a tally in the early minutes of the game. On the following kickoff, the Maryville team fumbled on their own twenty-yard line, where Carter recovered for Cumberland, which resulted in another score. Receiving the kickoff again, the Scotties were awarded a completed pass when interference was called, which placed the ball on the Cumberland four-yard line. From there the Scotties scored. Scoring again in the second and fourth quarters, picking up a conversion point which Cumberland didn't do after their last score, spelled defeat for Cumberland. Orr, Christian, and Carter were the outstanding home products.

SEWANEE SWAMPS KERRMEN

Clashing with Sewanee in the Tigers' first game of the season, the Bulldogs came out on the little end of a 49 to 0 score. Scoring at will, the Tigers racked up eight tallies. Fifteen hundred spectators saw the combination of Lyle, Bearden, Sandifer, Macon, and company score an impressive victory.

TEAM TUMBLES TUSCULUM

Playing before an overjoyed Kirk Field crowd, the Bulldogs amassed thirty-four points to hold the Tusculum Pioneers scoreless, and racked up the largest score in four years. On successive passes and runs John Orr and Miles Christian moved the ball across the zero marker for the first score in the first quarter. Late in the second frame, Jean Denney recovered a Tusculum fumble on their forty-yard line. A pass from Christian to Jim Rowland was good for thirty yards. A penalty and a line buck by Jim Chappell combined for the second score.

John Hall, passing to Rowland, and runs by Billy Lloyd gave Cumberland a third score in the third quarter. Recovering another fumble on the Tusculum thirty-five-yard line resulted in another Bulldog score in the fading minutes of the third quarter as Hall and Rowland starred.

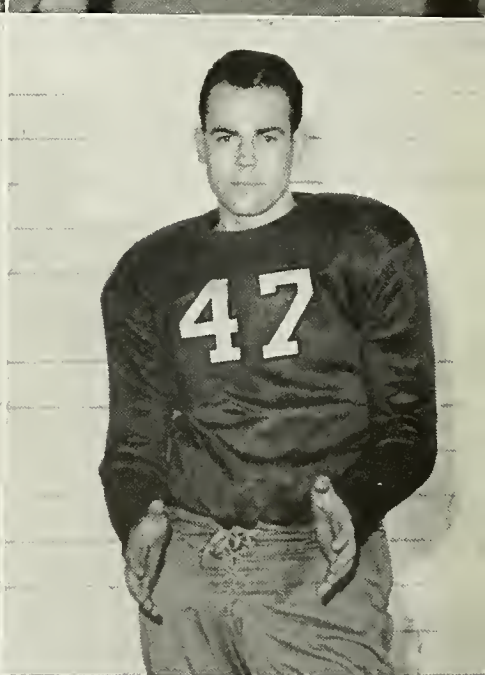

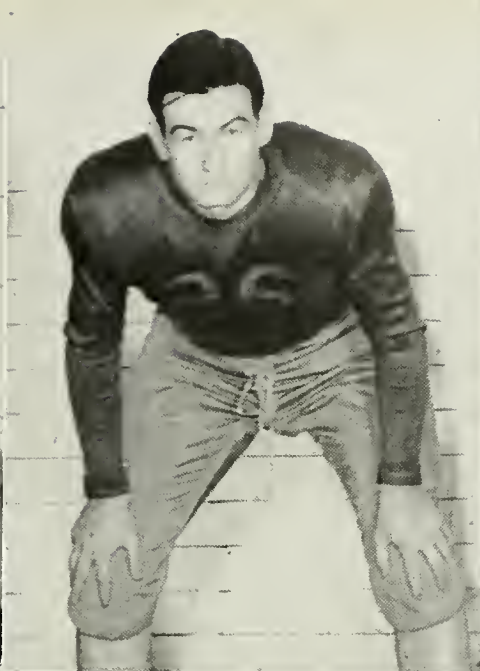

MURFREESBORO STINGS CUMBERLAND

Fighting hard throughout the game, Cumberland lacked the scoring punch as the Teachers threw Cumberland for a 13 to 0 loss. Advancing the ball all the way from their own thirty-yard line on long passes, the Teachers scored the first tally early in the first period.

In the second period, State Teachers College again pushed the ball deep in Cumberland territory, but failed to score. Early in the third quarter, the Teachers completed two long passes, and by virtue of several running plays made the second touchdown. Brilliant for Cumberland were Bill Grimmett, Rowland, and Ira Stone.

TEACHERS TOPPLE BULLDOGS

Eastern Kentucky Teachers' slate was left clean after the Bulldogs had attempted to spoil their undefeated season. The Kerrmen lost, 48 to 7.

Cumberland's lone tally came in the third quarter when Johnny Orr, right halfback, ran fifty-two yards to Eastern's one-yard line and plunged over on the second play thereafter. Hall kicked for the extra point.

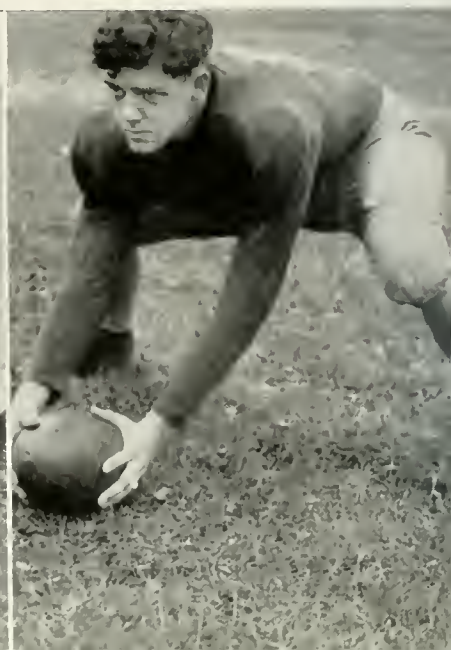

The Kentuckians scored at random, completely outclassing the Bulldogs, who played most of the game on the defense.

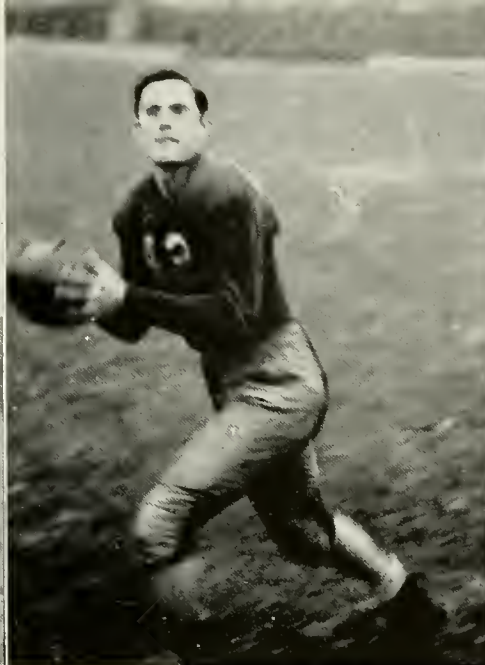

EAST TENNESSEE VICTORIOUS

A brilliant eighty-yard run for a touchdown by the opponents' tailback, Tom Lawson, midway in the fourth quarter, was the highlight of a game in which Cumberland University took a 13 to 0 licking from their conference rivals.

The Bulldogs threatened in the fourth when Stone carried the ball over the goal line for what appeared to be a touchdown. The officials ruled the score void, claiming that Stone fumbled before going over. Orr, Lloyd, and Copeland starred.

HOME-COMING SPOILED

Combining aerial thrusts with savage line power, the Union Bulldogs overcame Cumberland, 20 to 0, before a home-coming crowd that braved the wintry blasts.

Union scored first midway in the second quarter when Jones flipped a thirty-yard pass to Tipton. Scoring twice again, the Union Suiters were never in danger of defeat.

Cumberland's only two threats came on nice sweeping runs by Nichols early in the first and second periods. Carter, Denney, Lloyd, and Nichols were the stellar crew for the losers.

KING COPS FINAL

Cumberland's Bulldogs brought the 1940 season to a close in Bristol, where King College romped over them for a 27 to 7 victory. The Cumberland score came in the last period when Lloyd of the Lewisburg Lloyds broke over left tackle and ran through the entire King team to score a touchdown singlehandedly.

On the second play of the game, Jean Denney, Cumberland's ace and peppy center, suffered a knee injury that kept him on the side lines throughout the remainder of the game.

BASKETBALL

Basketball at Cumberland came into its own this year with four mainstays of the first five back from the year before, and with a brand-new coach, Charles Kerr, taking over the helm. The basketballers this year won fourteen games and lost seven. In conference competition, the Bulldogs won seven games and lost one to finish .025 points behind Lincoln Memorial, who won the championship. The team as a whole amassed a total of 950 points, compared to 833 for the opposition. Of these 950, Cumberland's big guns, Patrick and Edwards, scored 558.

Duane L. "Slim" Patrick, pride and joy of Bradford, Tennessee, set a new record for points scored in a single season and became Cumberland's new basketball scoring king. Patrick garnered a total of 355 points this season, dropping in 151 field goals along with fifty-three free throws, averaging sixteen points per game.

James "Droopy" Edwards of Dickson, Tennessee, was second on the hit parade. The only senior on the squad, Edwards scored 203 points, composed of eighty field goals and forty-three foul shots, ending the season with a nine-point per game average.

Jimmy Fisher of Carthage, Tennessee, was the unsung hero of the basketball team. Always tops in guarding performances, Fisher scored only thirty-one points. The success of the team was credited to his defensive play.

Bernie Bass, floor general de luxe from Gordonsville, Tennessee, was third in the scoring parade with a total of 129 points. He dropped fifty-seven field goals in the basket and made fifteen free shots, averaging six points per game.

The only newcomer to the first five was Vincent Knox of Dyersburg, Tennessee, who stepped into a guard position. A great defensive star, Knox hit the basket for 121 points. Hitting fifty-five field shots and eleven foul attempts, he averaged five points per game.

Supporting the stars admirably were such fine performers as Lloyd McMurtrie, who scored forty-six points; Earl Holton with thirty points; Buster Harris with twelve points; Richard Freeman with twelve points; John Orr with seven points; and John Hall with one point.

Bill Grimmett, freshman football player, served as manager of the quintet.

A great deal of the success of the team is due to the aid of Assistant Coach Rocky Palmer, who kept statistics on the who's, what's, where's, why's, and how's of the game.

Following the procedure of last year, Cumberland scheduled no college boxing matches but concentrated on the Golden Gloves Tournament in Nashville. Barry Sutton, most famous Golden Gloves star in Middle Tennessee, coached the Cumberland team this year, turning out a winning combination. Both Sutton, who fights in the welterweight division, and R. W. Copeland, heavyweight, were in the finals of the Middle Tennessee Golden Gloves Tournament. Sutton lost in the finals to David (Red) Travis of Old Hickory on a decision. Copeland won the heavyweight championship over Ed Dodson, a former champion. Copeland went on to the Southern Golden Gloves bouts, where he lost in the second round.

The team is composed of Sutton, Copeland, Claiborne Nixon (middleweight), A. J. Reed (welterweight), Clyde Griffin (lightweight), Willard Allen (welterweight), and Joe Boyd Ogilvie (light heavyweight).

"C" CLUB—WINNERS BOYS' INTRAMURALS

MEN'S INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

Intramurals took on new meaning in the basketball tournament this year with a round-robin play-off preceding the tournament. Every member of the eight-team league played every other member in the round robin, and the first four teams were selected to meet in a playoff to decide the championship.

The first four teams were the undefeated "C" Club, the Kitchen Police, the Sigma Alpha Epsilons, and the Commuters. Other teams in the league were the Lambda Chis, the Sigma Delta Kappas, the Lawyers, and the Stray Greeks.

The favored "C" Club team took a straight path to the championship. Meeting the Sigma Alpha Epsilons in the semifinals—the same spot in which they were upset a year ago—the "C" Club came out victorious by a 19 to 11 count. In the other semifinal game the Kitchen Police overcame the Commuters, 24 to 9.

In the climax the undefeated "C" Club beat the Kitchen Police group, 21 to 17. The Waiters held the advantage until the half, but in the second stanza the Letter Wearers put on the steam and surged ahead.

The Cumberland Collegian, student publication of the university, selected the following stars as an all-tournament team:

First Team	Position	Second Team
Terry (Stray Greeks)	Forward	Waite (K. P.)
Beesley ("C" Club)	Forward	Simpson (L. X. A.)
Denney (S. A. E.)	Center	Owen (Lawyers)
Pecher (K. P.)	Guard	Gilbert (Commuters)
Haywood ("C" Club)	Guard	Hereford ("C" Club)

WOMEN'S INTRAMURAL BASKETBALL

With only three teams entered in the lassies' intramural competition, there was no need for a round robin. In the preliminaries the defending champions, the Commuters, were eliminated by the Sigma Delta Sigma sorority.

Meeting in the finals, the Sigma Deltas clashed with the Delta Phi Omega sorority for the championship. The Delta Phi Omegas were victorious by a 28 to 21 score. The winners held a 14-13 margin at the half.

The Collegian's all-tournament team included:

Player	Position	Team
Forrester	Forward	Delta Phi Omega
Moss	Forward	Sigma Delta Sigma
Ligon	Forward	Sigma Delta Sigma
Dance	Guard	Sigma Delta Sigma
Hewgley	Guard	Delta Phi Omega

SCHOOL OF

A unit of the Civil Aeronautics Authority was brought to Cumberland this year through the combined efforts of the administrative heads of the university and Castle Heights Military Academy.

Twenty Cumberland students are training for private pilot's licenses. Included in the twenty—which is composed of two units of ten—are two Cumberland coeds.

AERONAUTICS

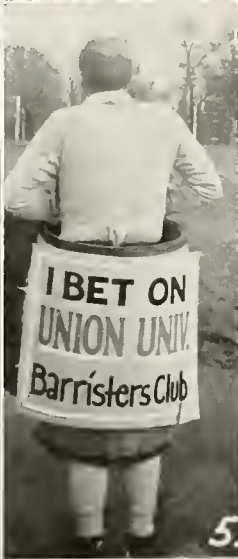

The Nashville Flying Service is handling the instruction. Upon completion of the course in aeronautics and ground instruction, final flight tests will be given for the private pilot's certificate.

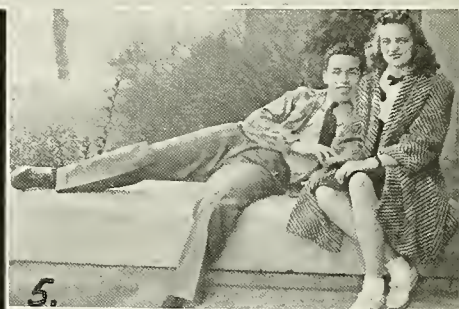

With the new airfield and hangar, and with the assured success of the first year, Cumberland authorities predict an even greater success next year.
